

BRITAIN'S HOME FLEET "MISSING" FROM HOME PORT

Great Armada of Warships Believed Sailing to Gibraltar

By The Associated Press (Copyright, 1935.)

Portland, England, Sept. 16.—The bulk of Great Britain's home fleet has disappeared from here on the eve of its scheduled maneuvers off Scotland. Although no officials would discuss the present location, the street talk was that these ships are steaming for the Mediterranean.

Previous Admiralty announcements said the home fleet was assembling here in preparation for the autumn maneuvers, but tonight the visible supply of warships on hand appeared to consist of three battleships, one cruiser, 15 obsolete World War warships, and miscellaneous non-fighting and supply ships. The normal strength of the home fleet is about 50 fighting vessels.

The strength of the British navy here is represented by the battleships Rodney, Nelson, and Royal Sovereign, the cruiser Cairo, and destroyers, of which many are listed by the Admiralty as on the reserve list.

Began to Disappear
The harbor roadstead swarmed with ships until late last week when, one by one, in pairs, or in larger units they began to disappear.

On Saturday night, five ships, led by the great battle cruiser Hood, steamed out immediately after the naval police had rounded up all sailors and officers in Portland and ordered them to board their ships.

All the Admiralty would say was that the missing ships probably had left for the exercises.

However, residents of this naval center have noted that many ships normally assigned to the home fleet are now in the Mediterranean and they said they believed the others were on their way there.

GIBRALTAR BUSY
Gibraltar, Sept. 16.—(AP)—British naval authorities adopted a policy of reticence today concerning movements of British warships in this vicinity.

Boat defenses have been fixed across the southern entrance to Admiralty harbor. The battleship Australia arrived from Plymouth and sailed today for an undisclosed destination. The cruiser Ajax and the destroyer Foxhound also arrived unexpectedly as did the destroyers Firedrake, Foresight, Fame, Fearless, and Fortune.

There had been no announcement they were coming.

IN CANAL AREA
Alexandria, Egypt, Sept. 16.—(AP)—A large number of British warships, including two battleships, carried out naval exercises off Alexandria today.

The citizens watched with interest the movements of warships while airplanes roared overhead. (Alexandria is in what is known as the "Suez Canal area.")

Cattle Rustlers at Work in Lee County Fear of Authorities

Fears that cattle rustlers, who have been quite active in Will county for several weeks, have started their operations in Lee county were expressed today when it was reported that two white faced steers had been taken from the farm of Dr. S. Chandler Bend, six miles south of Dixon. The two animals weighing about 325 pounds each were purchased by Dr. Bend, local chiropractor, only a few days ago, were taken from his farm during the night. Farmers in the neighborhood today joined in a search for the animals but had not succeeded in finding any trace of them at noon today when notice of the theft was reported to Sheriff Ward Miller, who joined in the search.

A farmer residing southwest of Paw Paw reported to the sheriff's office this morning the loss of 75 chickens from his farm last night.

No Celebration Until His 105th Birthday

DuQuoin, Ill., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Axom Major Revell, Perry county pioneer farmer, doesn't believe in ostentatious celebrations, even for one's 101st birthday. Revell, who reached that age yesterday, observed that event by giving to the First Baptist church from his home, and he later held open house for his friends. He said he didn't want to make too much display and preferred to postpone a celebration until he was 105.

A Confederate veteran of the Civil War, he has lived here more than 70 years and appears to be in excellent health. Mrs. Revell is dead.

Flash Light Wedding Procession Here Sunday Morn

Courtney J. Dawson, a salesman, and Miss Blanche M. Dominique of Kankakee, Ill., chose an early hour Sunday morning for their marriage ceremony. They appeared at the police station about 4 o'clock Sunday morning and requested Officers John Bohnstiel and Richard Pomeroy to summon the county clerk and a justice. In keeping with the practice to make strangers welcome and enjoy the hospitality of the city, the officers first telephoned County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock, awakening him from his sound slumbers, and next disturbed the peaceful rest of Justice J. O. Shaulis.

The officers accompanied the couple to the court house, a courtesy which was later greatly appreciated. When County Clerk Schrock arrived at the court house, he discovered that the electric service had been cut off while the stoker was being installed in the heating plant. Accordingly the two police officers further obliged the strangers by furnishing the required illumination with their flash lights while the county clerk issued the license. The flash light procession, then proceeded to the office of Justice J. O. Shaulis where the ceremony was performed. The couple were attended by Raymond Bissonette and Miss Betty Prue, also of Kankakee, and the two patrolmen.

Saturday morning, Justice Shaulis officiated at the wedding of Joseph A. Wallis, Jr., and Miss Mary Janet Schweitering, both of Fort Madison, Iowa. The couple were attended by Miss Lavina Blackburn and Lloyd Muzzey.

Truce Declared Today Hinsdale Milk Strike

Chicago, Sept. 16.—(AP)—A truce which ended an overnight siege at a dairy farm in suburban Hinsdale left the way clear today for milk deliveries.

Some 500 farmers picketed the farm Saturday night and Sunday morning in protest to the farm having discontinued purchasing milk from DuPage and Kane county cattle owners in favor of farmers in southern Wisconsin. The pickets cut telephone lines and refused to permit movement of trucks until mediation was agreed upon and a truce called. E. H. Burns, manager of the farm, said the change in source of supply was to get milk of higher butter fat content.

Cards Pledging Campaign for Defeat of Roosevelt, Horner to Be Circulated Down State

Chicago, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Spread of a pledge card campaign for the defeat of President Roosevelt and Governor Horner to downstate counties today was assured with announcement of a tour of every Illinois county planned by men active in the drive.

Fred Ludin, who directed the Cook county campaign which brought in a claimed 30,000 pledge cards in four months, announced the downstate movement. The cards called for a pledge to work and vote for "removal" of the president and the governor.

William J. Stratton, of Ingleside, former secretary of state, and State Representative Richard J. Lyons, of Mundelein will begin a tour next

"LITTLE NRA" IS IN COURT; GOVT. ASKS DISMISSAL

Claims Injunction Action Premature; Wage Parley Continues

Washington, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Dismissal of the first legal challenge of the Guffey coal stabilization bill was asked by the government today in District of Columbia supreme court on the ground it was premature.

The case, attacking the constitutionality of the recently-enacted bill to set up a "little NRA" for the bituminous industry, was brought by James W. Carter, a southern West Virginia producer.

In asking that the request for an injunction be denied, government attorneys headed by John Dickerson, assistant attorney general, presented the following contentions:

U. S. Contentions

1. The act is not effective until the national bituminous coal commission has been set up to enforce it.

2. No taxes have been levied or assessed under the act.

3. It is impossible for the court to determine now if the act will injure the company or is an abuse.

4. The act provides "complete and adequate statutory form of remedy" and acceptance does not stop the company from "contesting the constitutionality of any provision of said code."

5. The government, a party to the case, has not agreed to be sued.

The bill would impose a 15 per cent gross sales tax on coal producers, with a 90 per cent rebate for those complying with the act's marketing provisions.

Seek Wage Agreement

At the same time a joint committee of operators and union leaders undertook new negotiations for an agreement on wages and hours in the huge Appalachian coal region. A strike call is threatened unless the agreement is reached.

The present contract would have expired last midnight except for the last-minute action of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, in extending the past until next Sunday midnight. The request for an extension of the fifth to be made—came from Marvin McIntyre, one of President Roosevelt's secretaries.

Meetings of the joint committee with Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, were held yesterday, but little progress was made toward an ultimate agreement. The miners are seeking shorter hours and higher wages. The operators contend they can grant no more than a continuation of the present contract until next April 1.

Alleged Crap Game in West End Brings Officers Out Twice

Sheriff Miller and members of the police department responded to a call about 1:30 Sunday morning in the neighborhood of Fourth street and Sherman avenue where it was reported that a crap game was in progress. Arriving on the scene they met an individual who complained that his presence in the game had been denied, with the result that he had decided to "sneak." Going to the house, the officers found a small group of men gathered about on the floor, but there apparently was a lull in the progress of the contest and no arrests were made, the group being dispersed.

Fifteen minutes later the officers were called back a second time, when it was found that the disgruntled one had sought revenge by hurling rocks at the building. The occupant had retaliated by firing three blasts from a shot gun which awoke the neighborhood. When the officers arrived on the second visit, the hurler of the boulders had sought refuge in a corn field and could not be found.

SHOE MAKERS IN THREE TOWNS TO GIVE UP CHARTER

(Telegraph Special Service)
Charleston, Ill., Sept. 16.—By secret vote of 124 to 65, members of the local Boot and Shoe union decided last night to return their charter to the international headquarters at Boston.

The plant of the Brown Shoe company, closed here for nearly five months, may be reopened within 30 days. That plant usually hires about 1,100 persons, with a total weekly pay roll of $20,000.

Harold Davidson, a labor union organizer from Mattoon, run out of Sullivan on Saturday by a merchants' committee, failed to reappear last night. Fifty persons with tar and feathers were reported to be awaiting him. The Illinois Federation of Labor at its Belleville convention today demanded an investigation of this case.

Union membership has also been renounced by shoe workers at Mattoon and Sullivan.

ARTIST VICTOR IN LOVE ACTION WILL SEEK SON

Chicago, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Victor in a love suit whereby Eames MacVeagh, socially prominent Chicagoan, was ordered to pay her $250 a month for life, Miss Louise Hagen, 47, New York artist, announced today that she intends to find the son taken from her at birth.

Although happy over the outcome of her action to compel MacVeagh, St. James church vestryman, to carry out the terms of a contract he signed following his marriage in 1929 to Zelle Barthelmy, the artist said her future happiness depends on finding her son, now 24 years old.

The boy, Miss Hagen testified during her suit, was adopted by friends of MacVeagh and she has not seen him since he was taken from her.

"I've always felt that some day my boy would come back into my life," Miss Hagen said. "Now that I have been vindicated, the feeling is even stronger. A detective agency has offered help to find him. He belongs to me. I hope he has known all along. Even if he has not, I know he will accept me. Blood will tell."

Although she planned to leave for her home at Woodstock, N. Y., today, the artist said she would return shortly to begin the search for her son.

President Will Talk European Situation

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 16.—(AP)—President Roosevelt arranged a tea late today with Norman Davis, ambassador at large to Europe, and Mrs. Davis, indicating an interest in the involved European situation.

There is no sign whatever that this country will step into this problem. On the contrary, the president seems to be showing to the old warring countries of Europe his policy of "good neighbor." Going ahead with a busy day of domestic business Roosevelt had on his calling list a number of men closely connected with national affairs.

These included Joseph Choate, director of the old federal alcohol control administration, and Harris Williamson, his assistant. The direction of alcohol has been transferred by congress to the internal revenue bureau. That is to be talked over today.

Body Blond Singer-Suicide Taken Home

New York, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The grief-stricken parents of Evelyn Hoey, blond singer of torch songs who was found shot to death at the Pennsylvania farm home of Henry H. Rogers 3rd, left today for Downingtown, Pa., to carry the body of their daughter back to their St. Louis, Mo., home for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Hoey said they would go west immediately and would not stay over to attend the inquest which is scheduled for Thursday. They were accompanied by their son, Enroll, who arrived here by plane from Minneapolis, Minn., last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoey, who showed signs of the strain caused by their daughter's tragic death, were under the care of a physician over the week-end.

Tile Works at Paw Paw is Going Strong

The tile works near Paw Paw, which was reorganized and reopened last spring is experiencing very successful season. During last week the plant averaged a car load of tile shipped daily, and since reopening the product has been greatly in demand to the extent that no supply of tile has been stored in the yards. A few years ago the tile works closed down and was idle for a time until a new company was organized last spring and after repairing the kilns and plant generally resumed operation on a large scale.

Hungry Thieves

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Thieves who entered the home of Edward Shaver must have been hungry. Not satisfied with the $80 they took from a pair of trousers, they raided the icebox and stole the family's Sunday dinner.

FARMERS INVITED TO MEET OF LEE SPORTSMEN HERE

Farmers of Lee county who are interested in the propagation of wild bird life on their farms, are particularly invited to attend the meeting to be held at the Dixon Municipal Airport hangar Wednesday evening, when plans for the organization of a sportsmen's association in Lee county will be explained. State Conservation Inspector Charles Duis has arranged for the meeting and J. C. McConaha of Pontiac, of the Illinois Department of Conservation will be the principal speaker. Mr. McConaha will spend Wednesday in Lee county and will visit the fish hatchery in Green river south of Amboy which was built by the sportsmen's club of that vicinity. He will also visit the Dixon state hospital grounds, where sites for state hatcheries have been suggested.

In the organization of the sportsmen's association of Lee county, an appeal is made to the farmers to co-operate in providing shelter for wild game birds and to assist in feeding the birds during the winter season. The protection of the wild birds is highly beneficial to the farmer as will be explained at the meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the Airport hangar.

She was born May 21, 1860 and at the time of her passing was aged 75 years. She was united in marriage to Peter Krieger 53 years ago at Fosen, Germany, he having preceded her in death 11 years ago. Landslide in Iowa Swept Locomotive Into Mississippi

Fort Madison, Ia., Sept. 16.—(AP)—A 300 foot landslide about 20 feet deep, rolled the engine of Burlington passenger train No. 1 into the Mississippi river one and a half miles east of here early today. No one was injured.

Plunging down from the bluffs below the home of W. R. Sheaffer, pen manufacturer, the slide crashed into the engine, toppled it into the river and partly covered the baggage car.

B. Wayne, engineer, and J. H. Kolb, fireman, both of Hannibal, Mo., were in the locomotive when it rolled over into the river.

Traffic over the railroad will be halted three days, officials said.

Legion is Asked to Preserve Basic Law

Chicago, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Sterling Morton, Chicago manufacturer, made a plea for American Legion leadership to preserve the Constitution and rid the nation of undesirable aliens in an address prepared for delivery today before the advertising men's post of the legion.

"The legion need not merely hope or pray that the Constitution may be preserved," Morton said, "it can demand, and that demand cannot be denied."

Expressing a belief that "it is time to call a halt on admitting any more 'aliens' Morton asserted the nation's deportation machinery was "not being used because those in power do not choose to use it."

Col. Frank Knox is Boomed for Presidency at Big Rally Held in Chicago; Called "Real Man"

Chicago, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The Republican campaign for the 1936 elections was under way in Illinois today following a G. O. P. rally here yesterday during which Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, was boomed for the presidency.

Before a gathering in Riverview Park, former Governor Wilbur M. Brucker of Michigan, keynote speaker, asserted that "If Col. Knox is the party's standard-bearer next year he will sweep the country."

Arthur F. Albert, Republican leader and former Chicago alderman, assailed the state and na-

JURY FAILED TO FIX IDENTITY OF LONG BODYGUARD

Senator's Assassin Found to Have Died From Pistol Shots

BULLETIN

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—A coroner's jury today held that Dr. Carl A. Weiss, Jr., slayer of Senator Huey P. Long, came to his death from pistol wounds in the head, chest and abdomen.

In announcing the verdict, Dr. Thomas A. Bird, said: "He came to his death as the result of pistol wounds of the head, chest and abdomen (homicidal). That's all."

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 16.—(AP)—The Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, organizer of Senator Huey P. Long's share-out-wealth clubs, called District Attorney John Fred Odom of East Baton Rouge parish a "murder plotter" at an inquest held today into the death of Dr. C. A. Weiss, Jr., slayer of Senator Long. Smith declined to answer questions.

"I want to say I respect your court," he said as he took the stand, "but I want to say that this district attorney has been named as a 'murder plot conspirator.' I refuse to respect him. I refused to be questioned."

"When a man who has not shared in the conspiracies asks the questions, I will answer them."

"I worshipped my hero."

Loudly Applauded

Applause sounded loudly in the packed courtroom.

District Attorney Odom rose. "I care nothing for his opinion of me or of my acts," Odom said. "His charge is malicious and a deliberate lie."

More applause sounded. He was preceded on the witness stand by Supreme Court Justice John B. Fournet, who testified that Dr. Weiss advanced on Senator Long and shot him without uttering a word or giving any warning.

Fournet made his statements in answer to direct and cross interrogation by State's Attorney General Gaston L. Porter.

Fournet, appearing voluntarily at the inquest at the request of Odom, gave a graphic eye witness account of the shooting.

Two Feet from Long

Judge Fournet said he was within two feet of Senator Long who had just walked out of the governor's office in the crowded corridor when a small man, later identified as Dr. Weiss, shoved through the rear and wedged in with a pistol in his hand.

He raised it from his right hip, the judge said, and he grabbed his arm. At the same instant the man fired and Senator Long made an outcry.

"I started to grab the man again and then Murphy Roden, bodyguard grabbed Dr. Weiss' pistol and held on to it," Fournet said.

The judge said he pushed the doctor.

In Crouched Position
"Dr. Weiss stood in a crouched position trying to fire his pistol that would not shoot," the judge said. "He appeared to be trying to shoot Roden who was on the floor. I saw Roden pull his pistol but before he could fire general pistol shooting opened from the left and right from behind him as the other bodyguards came up."

He said he and Senator Long both thought Dr. Weiss had fired two shots but he was not certain whether it was one or two.

He said Senator Long thanked him as he lay on the operating table for saving him from the second shot. He said Dr. Weiss did not say a word to Senator Long and Senator Long did not say anything to Dr. Weiss before the latter shot.

Judge Fournet said he ran after Senator Long and found him being carried away to the hospital by James O'Connor, Jr., and some other man.

Walked Hurriedly

After the shooting the judge said Senator Long went down stairs alone. Before the shooting, he said, the Senator had walked rapidly out of the House chamber into Governor Allen's office with his body-

ECONOMIC BOYCOTT AGAINST ITALY IS PLAN

Preliminary Details Reported Agreed Upon by Some Nations

Geneva, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Reliable sources disclosed tonight that a preliminary plan for an economic boycott against Italy in case that nation should launch an unprovoked war are being worked out among certain members of the League of Nations.

This disclosure came after a day in the league assembly in which Poland had snubbed Soviet Russia—her delegates walking out on a speech by Maxim Litvinoff, Russian foreign commissar—and in which Panama, the Irish Free State and Haiti had warned the league it must prevent the conquest of a smaller nation by a larger.

The sources in question said the British delegation to the league had suggested the idea of a general economic blockade against Italy in case she attacks Ethiopia and that the plan for such a blockade had already been provisionally mapped out.

The suggestion, regarded as a preliminary and precautionary project, was understood to be a sequel to the pledge given by Premier Laval of France that, if the worst came to the worst, France, loyal to the league covenant, would be disposed to participate in collective economic and financial sanctions.

Seek Limited Scope.

French circles described the policy of France in the present emergency as based upon a desire to limit as much as possible the scope of any measures of restraint which might be justified against Italy.

It was stated that the project, as elaborated, partakes particularly of the nature of a commercial boycott under which the nations would pledge themselves to neither sell nor buy anything from Italy.

Those close to the negotiations cautioned that the suggested protective boycott should not be considered tantamount to an economic blockade since, it was explained, the word "blockade" immediately suggests the use of warships to enforce it. The British delegation authorized the following statement:

No Definite Proposals.

"The British and French governments have had from time to time conversations concerning what action might be pursued in the event of certain things happening. But the British government has made no definite proposals."

A Lithuanian retort to Reichsfuehrer Hitler's Nurnberg speech and departure from the hall of the Polish delegation during a speech by Russia's foreign commissar answering Poland's foreign minister brought League of Nations assembly delegates sharply to attention today.

Replying to Hitler's statements, Foreign Minister Stasys Lozoraitis of Lithuania voiced regret that declarations were being made which belittled the atmosphere of peaceful international relations.

The second sensation came when Maxim Litvinoff, Russian foreign commissar, mounted the rostrum to make reply to a speech by Foreign Minister Beck of Poland.

To Observe Engagements.

Lozoraitis said Lithuania was determined loyally to observe all international engagements, alluding to difficulties with Germany over the situation at Memel. (Hitler said yesterday that Germans watched with concern treatment of their blood brothers in Memel and described coming elections as a breach of treaty agreements.)

Collective Security
Laval and Sir Samuel were reported by authorities to have agreed during recent talks on collective security in Europe to push a Danubian pact to the quickest possible conclusion.

A finished draft of the proposed pact was said to have been communicated by the French government to interested nations with an urgent request that it be accepted for the earliest possible signing.

French sources described the peace plan to be submitted by the five-power committee of the League of Nations council as a "last forlorn hope."

They outlined its probable proposals thus:
League recognition of Italy's need for expansion, ceding of the Ogaden territory to Italy by Emperor Haile Selassie, granting to Italy of the right to "peaceful penetration" of all territories occupied by tribes not recognizing the emperor's authority, and abandonment by Haile Selassie of certain conquered territories adjacent to the Italian colonies which would revert to their former rulers under an Italian protectorate.

TROOPS ON MOVE
Addis Ababa, Sept. 16—(AP)—
The vanguard of 3,000 additional soldiers, destined to bolster Ethiopia's fighting forces, marched off for the frontier today.

their women folk insisting on accompanying them, after 2,000 Ethiopians begged openly for arms yesterday before Emperor Haile Selassie's palace.

The King of Kings came to a window for a moment to appease the crowd which engaged in war dances, brandishing weapons and shouting: "we want war."

The crowd was led by veterans of the battle of Adowa, where an Italian expedition was routed in 1896.

The emperor denied French authorities permission to bring in colonial troops to protect the headquarters and personnel of the Franco-Ethiopian railway at Deridawa, asserting Ethiopian forces offered ample protection.

The emperor expressed willingness, however, to allow the French to bring in additional soldiers to guard their legation.

guards hurrying in a vain effort to keep up with him. He had just walked out of the governor's office into the corridor when Dr. Weiss came up, he said.

The shooting, Judge Fournet said, was automatic pistol fire, with probably a single-shot mixed in, and the fire sounded like machine guns but no machine guns were used. He said it was continuous fire until it stopped suddenly.

THE SEEKERS

By Joseph Fort Newton
"A" LL my life," writes a woman, "I have been seeking, disbelieving, dissatisfied with the thing believed; yet somehow still half-believing in spite of not finding."

"But always I'm seeking something whose name and nature I do not understand, something beautiful, something enduring, something satisfying, mine profoundly, and the utter redemption of myself."

"I don't know what I'm seeking—all I can tell is that it is something I have ever failed to find. Maybe it is something not to be found in this world in any satisfying quantity, if at all."

In the famous Maeterlinck play a boy and a girl wanted so much to find the Blue Bird—symbol of what all the world is seeking—that they decided to leave home and search until they found it.

They said good-bye to their parents and set out on their search with their dog and cat. They went, first, to the land of the Past and there they soon found the blue bird.

They took the bird with them, but, unfortunately, when they removed it they discovered that it was no longer blue. It changed color and became drab and dingy like the bird they had left at home.

Then they travelled into the land of the Future, and there found themselves in the midst of everything that was blue. The sky was blue and so were the trees—and all the birds were blue.

They decided to take a number of birds this time, but the birds died when they were taken away. At last the boy and girl returned home, feeling that they had failed utterly. But the first thing they noticed was that the bird at home was blue, and had been blue all the time.

It is a lovely story, as well as a parable, and it has a deep truth in it—but the search is not quite so simple. No, we must find something deeper than happiness out of which happiness will spring.

Long ago it was told us by one who knew: "Lord, Thou hast made us for Thyself, and our hearts are restless till they rest in Thee."

But the Constitution that at any time exists, until changed by the explicit and authentic act of the whole people, is sacredly obligatory upon all."

The widow of "Teddy" Roosevelt added: "These solemn words belong to us individually and collectively. We are the whole people and we are gathered today to testify our belief in the Constitution of our country."

Autumn's Ambrosia—It's Cider Time

BY MARY E. DAGUE

NEA Service Staff Writer

Sweet cider on the roadside stands, sure sign that the crisp, clear days of fall are here, may be cherry, pear or peach as well as apple. Did you know that?

If you never used cider in cooking, you have a nice surprise ahead. But of course there's no better way to serve it than as a delicious drink, very cold, with an autumn dinner.

Cider and doughnuts, or pumpkin pie, make a grand dessert after a pot-roast dinner or an old-fashioned boiled dinner.

Our grandmothers were very particular about their boiled cider for mince meat and apple butter, and we would do well to follow their old recipes, even though you buy your cider and they made their own.

Boil Your Own

If you want to make your own boiled cider be sure the cider is fresh from the press. A gallon of cider will make one quart of boiled cider, according to my grandmother's receipt. I have her receipt, which I inherited along with her big copper boiler. Fill a preserving kettle with cider. As the cider boils away, add more and keep replenishing until the whole kettle of cider begins to thicken and becomes syrupy. Continue boiling without adding more cider until thick as molasses. You will have to stir it during the last part of the cooking to prevent it from sticking and scorching. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal.

One cup of boiled cider will season three mince pies.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heckman and son, Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Rhodes and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Millhouse and daughter Dorothy Mae, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Benodot and daughters of Dixon, Lester Heckman of Amboy; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hodge and daughter of Hazelhurst; Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Pitzer and son Walter of Franklin Grove; Mr. and Mrs. George Pitzer and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Pitzer and family, Jacob Pitzer and Harvey G. Pitzer, Jr. of Nachusa; Miss Mildred Morris of the Kingdom.

Late in the afternoon all departed for their homes, voting it a day long to be remembered.

Cider Salad

One and one-half cups sweet cider, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 12 whole cloves, 1-2 cup nut meats, 1-2 cup diced celery, 1 cup white grapes, 1-2 tablespoons cold water.

Softened gelatin in cold water for five minutes. Combine cider, salt and cloves and bring to the boiling point. Strain over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice. When beginning to thicken add nuts, celery and grapes which have been skinned and seeded. Turn into one large mold or individual ones and let stand on ice until chilled and firm. Unmold and serve with a cooked salad dressing.

Cider is delicious with pork roasts or with poultry and game. Four cups sweet cider, 1 cup cold water, 3-4 cup sugar, 1 cup orange juice, 1-2 cup lemon juice. Make a syrup of sugar and water. Cool and add to cider with lemon juice and orange juice. Freeze until firm.

For the hostess who desires the greatest possible amount of mileage out of her ice cubes there is a glass ice bar, replacing the metal ones of yesterday, which can be filled with water and frozen in the drawer of an electric refrigerator. The bar will chill without diluting drinks and does not change flavor of the concoction.

Vegetables in season are best—not only because they are cheaper but because their flavor and quality is better, having come to their prime naturally.

Pupils Should Be Grouped According To Their Abilities

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Peter comes home with a broad grin and announces that he's in a new room. There aren't quite enough seats and three children have to sit on chairs.

"Then you'll never learn to spell," sighs his mother. And later she confides to Peter's father that it is time classes were reduced to 20 pupils so each one of them would have a chance.

The most natural thing in the world is for the mother to feel that a teacher with more time on her hands could work the miracle.

This boy's case is typical of thousands of others, whether the difficult subject be spelling or arithmetic or French. So it seems to be a timely topic for discussion. For the moment we shall overlook the fact that some schools are closed altogether for lack of funds, others are in arrears as to salary payments, and still more have had to close several rooms and put the overload on the fraction of teachers left.

We will assume that money is no object and that in this fairland every teacher has 20 pupils, the figure one hears most usually quoted.

In the class grouped about the teacher's knee are Annie and Mack, neither of whom can get arithmetic. And Tommy and Dot who can't read, and Isaac who pinches the children, and Polly who won't listen. There is about the same mental average as would occur in a class twice the size. Perhaps six are independent of any help and need little teaching at all.

The teacher helps the slow ones and explains and re-explains. But she cannot produce brain energy that isn't there,

WHO IS RICH

President Roosevelt is capitalizing covetousness in advance of the campaign of 1936. His soak-the-rich law raises only a small amount of revenue. When divided up, what he takes from the rich is inconsequential to the rest of us.

What have we done, then, except to discourage in men the ambition to create business, to devise methods of making profits, and to build large industries, which require large investments and considerable chance-taking?

Garet Garrett takes the words from the rich man and puts them down in the Saturday Evening Post.

"Your proposition may be attractive, but the fact is I would not walk across the street to make a million dollars. Why? Because, in the first place, I have to risk 3 or 4 millions to make a million. If I lose the money, it is my loss. If I make a million, nearly two-thirds of it belongs to the government. If I put aside on my books the two-thirds that belongs to the government and then die before my income tax is due, the inheritance tax goes on everything I possess, including the two-thirds of a million I have set aside on my books as belonging to the government, and in that case it will cost my estate maybe $75,000 actual money for me to have made a million."

The point of the last sentence and the whole is that the man is not interested in making a million dollars, because his estate may be $75,000 worse off than it now is if he is successful in his undertaking to make a million. In other words, if he is unsuccessful he is sure to lose, and if he is successful he loses two-thirds of his profit and the estate may lose it all and more through taxation.

Going back to the beginning of this discussion, and leaving the matter of cash returns, we wonder about a campaign based upon covetousness.

There are more votes among the so-called poor than among the so-called rich, so it is good vote-getting policy to array the poor against the rich.

But who are the rich? We will say, for instance, that Mr. Ford is rich. His estate and income is one of the outstanding ones that seems to be under assault.

Mr. Ford eats three times a day. Well, even with 10 million wage earners out of work for three or four years, nobody has starved, the infant mortality has been low and the general health of the public has been high. In normal times nearly everybody has three meals a day and provides them for himself.

Mr. Ford is not noted for his display of fancy vests. Even James Hamilton Lewis, rich in many things but a poor man if measured by cash balances, far outranks the manufacturer in ownership of waistcoats. Even the rich who are noted for their extreme wardrobes can wear only one suit at a time, and most of the rest of us are able to do as well.

Mr. Ford manufactures several hundred thousand automobiles a year, but automobiles are only made to ride in, and only a few families, comparatively speaking, have been unable to operate their cars even through the deep depression. And since he has become "rich", Mr. Ford probably has been deprived even of the fun of driving his own car.

Mr. Ford owns a railroad, but what can he do with that? He can ride on it but so can anybody else who wants to and has the fare imposed by the interstate commerce commission, and the cost of riding on his railroad probably is less than riding in an automobile.

On the other hand, think of the thousands of young people who are classified as "poor," yet who are enabled to enjoy a high school and college education, not a privilege of Mr. Ford.

Finally Mr. Ford has a responsibility and has had a considerable gamble which few of us care to assume. Recall the automobiles that bore the names of their manufacturers and have fallen by the wayside. Remember that in order to keep step Mr. Ford shut down for a year and started over again.

Of course, if our desire is to emulate the spendthrifts and the Harry Thaws and be idle and veer around edges of jails, penitentiaries, and insane hospitals when we are outside of them, then it is hardly worth while entering upon this discussion.

Then there are the Samuel Insulls who were rich. Meanwhile, it is a pertinent question, Who is rich? Another pertinent question is whether or not it is creditable to create covetousness and then to capitalize it for votes.

How much did the World War accomplish? Contentment and prosperity of the world? Overthrow of the Kingdom of Mars? "The war to end war"—the very irony of the expression answers that question.—Dr. Mary E. Woolley, president, Mt. Holyoke College.

I'm not taking anything away from those fellows, but who did they ever lick?—Max Baer, to suggestion he "read up on" Marc Antony, Aristotle, Archimedes, and Attila.

The time has come to put an end to this hell-born business. I don't want my boy to die to enrich somebody.—Senator Homer T. Bone, Washington, speaking in favor of neutrality bill.

An American would probably tie a piece of string around his waist rather than go to the trouble of putting on braces—a bit sad.—Ethyle D. Campbell, London style expert.

Horned Toad Sweepstakes

Sport enthusiasts in the surrounding part of the country are showing great interest in the coming horned toad derby, floor show and summer festival to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at the Moose hall. The show will feature Mickey Mouse and turtle races.

The writer has seen plenty of toad derbies and is giving first hand information that the critters are able to amble right along in a surprising fashion, when they want to, and be as stubborn as a Rocky Mountain canary. Also, that these events of speed have become very popular in large western cities where they have become regular entries on the social calendars.

The toads will strut their stuff over a 25-foot track, thus much hard training is being done by various firms and individuals, hoping and training that their horned steeds may bring home a blue ribbon.

"Say, Doty's really pretty good. I never had a hunch she could make horses do real clever tricks," said Copy, with a smile.

"I'll let her go on with her act. It's good each time her whip is cracked. Then I will try that stunt myself, in just a little while."

"Most anything a girl can do. I feel that I can do it, too." Then Scouty said, "Be quiet, lad, and watch this little show."

"I'll bet you that when Doty's done, in this act there'll be no more fun. When Copy starts to try his luck, we won't be here, I know."

However, Copy had no chance. The horses soon began to prance and when fair Doty cried, "That's all, they raced right out of sight."

Said Copy, "That's a real mean trick. I know. I could have trained them slick. I hope you know that I'm a disappointed Tynymite."

"Oh, well," said Goldy. "I guess we have seen all that there is to see. We do not want to wear our welcome out, before we go.

"The cowboys have been simply grand, so let's give them a great big hand. I never have seen anything that's been as good a show."

"Now, wait," a cowboy answered. "We know of a place you'd like to see, and one of us will take you there. It isn't far from here."

"Why, say that's great," said Scouty. "You think of the nicest things to do, and we accept your invitation. It fills us with cheer."

"Okay," a cowboy jumped to shout. "Now we will haul a wagon out and when we're hitched, you can climb in. I'll hop the driver's seat."

Agent Ray Price of the C. B. & Q. here has a new pet at his home—a carrier pigeon he found Monday morning in a merchandise car. The car had been loaded at Sterling Saturday and it is probable that the pigeon had been a prisoner in the car since then. Another feed was given and the bird was released to determine whether or not it would continue its flight. However the pigeon seems perfectly grand, so let's give them a great big hand. DAILY HEALTH Tartar and Pyorrhea.

What your dentist calls "tartar" is an accumulation of hardened organic matter on the surface of teeth. The organic matter is composed of lining cells, cast off by the lining membranes of the mouth food debris, mucus from saliva, and various micro-organisms.

At first the deposit is life a soft, sticky film. Within 24 to 48 hours this film, if allowed to remain, becomes toughened. Subsequently it becomes impregnated with calcium and forms a hard, rock-like shell. Upon this shell other, similar films are deposited and ultimately a perceptible formation results. This is called tartar.

The formation of tartar may be prevented by the proper brushing of the teeth. Periodically, too, the teeth should be thoroughly cleaned by a dentist. This treatment consists in what is called scaling the teeth, that is, scraping them clean of all deposits.

Many different methods of brushing the teeth have been devised. In the main, though, dental authorities agree that proper brushing consists essentially in moving the brush with a vibratory motion over the teeth and the gums, so that every portion of the teeth and the gum margins are reached by the bristles. The long stroke motion usually results in cleaning only the high spots.

It must be kept in mind that the modern diet composed as it is of soft foods, does not call for much vigorous chewing. Were our food hard and tough, our teeth would be cleansed and our gums would be vigorously massaged in the process of mastication. Lacking such exercise, it is important that we should make amends by deliberately cleaning our teeth and by massaging our gums.

The accumulation of tartar around the roots of the teeth frequently gives rise to the condition known as pyorrhea. Some authorities indeed believe that from 90 to 95 per cent of all pyorrhea is the result of bad mouth hygiene.

Cut Rate Dealer in Liquors is Enjoined

Chicago, Sept. 16.—(AP)—A liquor dealer was forbidden to cut his prices in the first injunction issued under Illinois' new fair trade practice act.

Circuit Judge Joseph Burke entered the order against E. R. Oransky, who runs a grocery store, liquor counter, when the Joseph Triner Corporation, a distributor, charged Oransky had been offering a standard brand at 83 cents a pint. The distributors require that the retailer charge $1.15, it was explained.

The new Illinois statute, passed in July, permits distributors to fix a re-selling price on standard brands of merchandise. Attorney Walter Bachrach, representing the Triner Corporation, said retailers have found it beneficial them.

For a brown cotlee wool suit, Chanel made a gold lame blouse that set a color scheme carried out with gilt buttons and a brown felt hat. It's a combination that reeks of autumn.

GOLDEN EGGS

Tidy sums in "butter and egg money" are made by farm women who use the telephone. A telephone call is a quick, easy and dignified way to sell. One call to the local market determines the highest prices being paid. Another call to each customer clinches the sale, assures delivery and often results in additional orders for poultry and seasonal produce at the best prices available. This is only one of many things the farm telephone can do at a profit! Employed every day, for a variety of uses, it can and repeatedly does show a profit above its cost. Remember, it works for small pay.

ROOSEVELT MAY ASK MILLIONS FOR P. W. A.

Washington, Sept. 16—(AP)—A possibility that President Roosevelt will ask the next congress to appropriate more millions for permanent public works was discussed in informed circles today.

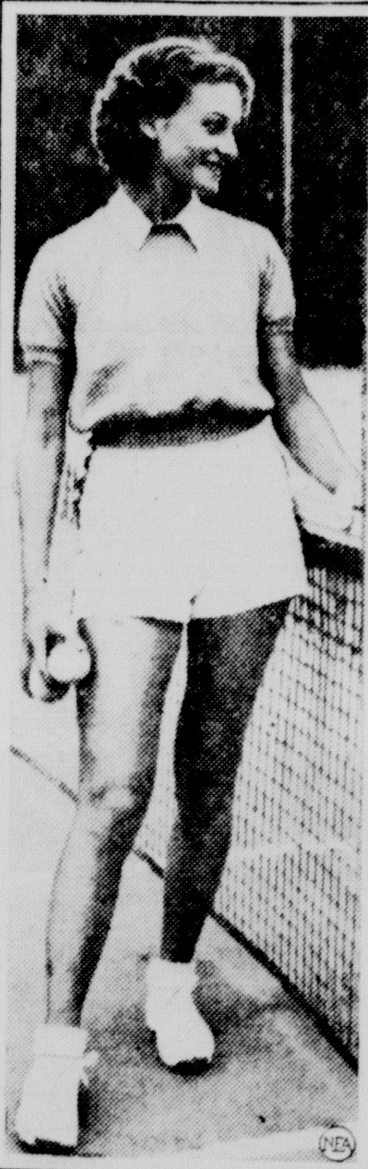

Neither confirmation nor a denial that he had been assured the president would follow such a course could be obtained from Secretary Ickes, the public works administrator.

But other officials, striving to read between the lines of the presidential order setting aside the bulk of remaining work relief funds for temporary work under Harry L. Hopkins' jurisdiction, thought it highly probable that congress would be asked for more money to salvage some permanent PWA projects.

It was pointed out that, since the $4,000,000,000 work program was announced last winter, many communities had been encouraged to develop PWA projects which now have little apparent chance to qualify for any of the $4,000,000,000.

One type of public works mentioned particularly as likely to be included in any new appropriation was public housing. The original work relief allotment for this purpose was cut $100,000,000 by the president yesterday, this amount being made available instead for other PWA projects which can be started by December 15.

JEW IN REICH DENIED RIGHTS OF CITIZENSHIP

New German Laws Have Been Passed Under Hitler's Drive

Nurnberg, Germany, Sept. 16—(AP)—The Reichstag of Adolf Hitler today relegated Jews in the Germany of the future to their position during the middle ages.

They may not become citizens, intermarry with Aryans, have intimate relations with Gentiles nor even employ Aryan servant girls under 45 years of age.

The Third Reich of the future, by unanimous decision of the 600 Hitler followers who make up the Reichstag will be one in which Aryan citizens who "by their attitude indicate they are willing and fit to serve faithfully the people and the Reich" will be separated sharply from "belongers to the state."

Legislation embodying these points was passed last night and scenes of unexampled patriotic fervor and approbation for the course Hitler has chosen to pursue strictly along the lines laid down in the original Nazi program.

Plan Further Moves
These acts inspired Der Fuehrer's followers with the hope that the rest of the Nazi tenets would be translated into practical politics, step by step, just as fast as political expedience permitted.

Before hearing addresses by Hitler and General Wilhelm Goering, the Reichstag itself gave a practical expression of its belief in the authority of Nazi principles. It empowered Goering, as leader of the Reichstag, to summon it in sessions at will until a new set of laws, embodying "leadership" principles, has been evolved and adopted.

The tearing of the swastika from the prow of the German lined Bremen in New York last month and the action of Magistrate Louis Brodsky in dismissing five defendants in the case were considered by observers to have furnished, in a measure, direct cause for enactment of the laws.

One law, effective immediately, proclaimed the swastika as the Reich's national and commercial flag. Black, white and red were set as the Reich's colors, with Der Fuehrer to designate the form of the Reich war flag and the Reich official flag.

A second law defined Reich citizens, dividing Germans into members of the state, the protection of which they may enjoy, and citizens—of German or similar blood—who would be allowed to serve the Reich and its people.

The citizen would be given a

Reich citizen letter making him the bearer of citizenship privileges. The date of enforcement of the citizenship law was not immediately fixed.

A third law, entitled "protection of blood and honor," became effective today. It provides that marriages between Jews and Germans were forbidden, and such marriages contracted abroad were declared void.

Talked Foreign Policy
Although Hitler intended originally to touch only on domestic issues in his Reichstag address, he deemed it expedient to view developments in the Memel territory and to warn Lithuanian government that justice must be done Germans in Memel "before events take forms that one day may only be regretted."

The Comintern (Communist Internationale) session recently at Moscow and the flag incident at New York furnished further occasions for brief digressions to foreign policy in his 12-minute address.

Hitler asserted defiantly that Germany has shaped its foreign policy according to no other country's will, but according to its own, and reassured this policy was solely one of peace.

"The purpose of the reconstruction of the German army was not to threaten or take liberty from any European nation but solely to preserve the freedom of the German people," he said.

"This viewpoint determines the foreign political position of German Reich government. Therefore we take no position in occurrences or in any question which does not directly affect us."

LITHUANIAN NOTE
London, Sept. 16—(AP)—Informed quarters said today Lithuania had replied in a manner generally satisfactory to joint representations made last week by Italy, France and Great Britain regarding the Memel elections to be held Sept. 29.

The Lithuanian reply, which was taken to mean that country would guarantee a fair and impartial election, was received before Reichsfuehrer Hitler had made his Nurnberg speech. Official comment on that speech was not available.

In authoritative quarters, however, the belief appeared that Lithuania's assurances to the guarantor powers would assist in clarifying the situation and probably satisfy reported German suspicions.

The town of Memel belonged to Germany before the World War. It was ceded to the allies at Versailles and in 1924 it was defined as being within Lithuania but was clearly defined administrative and financial autonomy.

In his Nurnberg speech yesterday Hitler said the League of Nations had legalized "the robbery" of Memel and charged Germans there had been tortured for years "only because they wanted to remain Germans." He said Germany must take notice how blood brothers there were being treated. Hitler described the coming elections as a breach of treaties affecting Lithuania's status.

Galesburg Firemen Killed in Accident

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 16—(AP)—George A. Quigley, 25, and John J. Jordan, 36, city firemen, were killed Saturday when Jordan's car collided, head-on, with a transfer truck. Five companions in Jordan's car were injured.

The crash occurred at the intersection of state route 83 and U. S. 150, 16 miles north of Galesburg.

The car was demolished and the truck, loaded with 9,000 pounds of castings, was thrown across the road and overturned. Roy Patterson of Rock Island, driver of the truck, was unhurt.

Of the occupants of the car, William Shunick sustained a critical spine injury and Leo O'Brien a fractured hip. Both were expected to survive. Sam Andre, Walter Bruner and J. Francis McNamara, other occupants of the car, were released from a hospital after treatment.

Low Mentality
The driver who tries to beat a train to a crossing is not to be considered as a person of high mentality, Lieberman declared, saying:

"Warning bells, wigwag lights, gates and other devices hint of an approaching train but the 'chiseler' doesn't take hints. The few seconds lost in making sure a train is not approaching may be the most important interval in a person's life."

Believes Illinois Escaped Epidemic

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 16—(AP)—Belief that Illinois would escape a severe epidemic of infantile paralysis has been expressed at the office of the state department of health.

Thirteen new cases have been reported in widely distributed areas during the past five days. The total for the preceding two weeks was 41.

Dr. Frank J. Jirka, health director, said indications were that Illinois was in no danger of a severe epidemic such as has been reported from some eastern states.

Jirka announced that typhoid fever prevalence since June 1 dropped 28 per cent in spite of two outbreaks.

ROAD HOGS AND CHISELERS ARE OBJECTS DRIVE

State Moves to Land the Traffic Menaces in Nearest Jails

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 16—(AP)—A drive to rid Illinois of "traffic chiselers" and "road hogs" has been launched by Ernst Lieberman, chief highway engineer, as a part of the street and road safety program.

The state division of highways opened a safety program last spring in an effort to reduce fatalities resulting from motor vehicle accidents. Officials say fatalities usually increase during the autumn months and are putting great emphasis on safety measures.

"The 'road hog' is a potential killer who either crashes into other motorists or crowds them off the road in an effort to avoid a collision," Lieberman said. "However, there is plenty of room on our highways for all motorists if drivers will only play fair."

Ignores Rules
"The rules are usually known by the 'road hog' but because of selfish indifference or thoughtlessness ignores the rights of others. His safety greatly depends on the ability of others to get out of his way. Until such time as we succeed in putting the 'road hog' in jail—where he belongs—the only thing to do is to give him a wide berth."

Lieberman described the motorist who fails to give all consideration to child pedestrians as a "contemptible traffic chiseler" of the worst variety. He urged motorists, since school has opened again, to take every precaution when traveling where children are congregated.

Low Mentality
The driver who tries to beat a train to a crossing is not to be considered as a person of high mentality, Lieberman declared, saying:

"Warning bells, wigwag lights, gates and other devices hint of an approaching train but the 'chiseler' doesn't take hints. The few seconds lost in making sure a train is not approaching may be the most important interval in a person's life."

Miss Helen Hicks brings up the feminine viewpoint. "There's a delicacy of flavor in Camels that appeals to women. Camels never interfere with one's wind." And Denny Shute says: "I switched to Camels years ago. I smoke them constantly, without upsetting my nerves or disturbing my wind."

CONSTITUTION DAY WILL SET OFF CAMPAIGN

Texas Democrat Says South Will Support Loyal Republican

Washington, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Controversy over plans of some Democrats to raise the constitutional issue against President Roosevelt in the party convention next year provided an unusual prelude today to the nation's annual observance of Constitution Day. A prediction by John Henry Kirby, chairman of "The Southern Committee to Uphold the Constitution," that his movement would defeat the president and "dictate" the Democratic nomination, brought quick report from Senator Thomas (D-Utah).

"They've got to point out some constitutional guarantee that's being destroyed—that's their first task," he said. "They haven't gotten around to it yet."

Forerunner of Campaign Both administration and Republican leaders prepared to make tomorrow's observance of Constitutional Day, marking the 148th anniversary of submission of the Constitution to the states, a forerunner of campaign battles to come.

"Forward with the Constitution" was announced as the subject of an address to be delivered by Secretary Roper, Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the Republican National Committee, topped a long list of those to speak on the other side.

A preliminary to these exchanges will be an address tonight by J. H. Shouse of the American Liberty League. He said he would discuss "Breathing Spells," mentioned by President Roosevelt recently in a letter asserting the administration's legislative program was substantially complete.

COL. ROOSEVELT SAYS PRESIDENT VIOLATED OATH

Warns People Have Not Forgotten Many Un-kept Promises

McClure, Pa., Sept. 16.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, in an address here Saturday, charged that President Roosevelt had been faithless in his campaign promises and has broken his "sacred oath taken on the Bible."

"You may have forgotten your promises, Mr. President," Col. Roosevelt said in addressing the 44th annual bean soup celebration, "but we, the people, have not forgotten. We believe our constitution is our bulwark against dictatorship and mob rule. You will hear from us in 1936."

The speaker listed numerous pledges made by the President during his pre-election campaign. Outstanding among them was Mr. Roosevelt's promise to reduce expenditures of the federal government.

Recalls 1932 Speech

"At St. Louis in October, 1932," Col. Roosevelt quoted, "You said: 'It is my pledge and promise that rigid governmental economy shall be forced by a stern and unrelenting administration policy of living within our income.'"

"You promised to reduce expenditures of the federal government 25 per cent and you have raised them 100 per cent. In three years you will have spent more than it cost to run the government of the United States for the first 125 years of its existence."

"In your pre-election campaign you said that the Hoover administration had 'piled bureau on bureau, commission on commission, and failed to anticipate the reduced earning power of the people.'"

Cites Alphabet Rule

"You have created more than 40 new government agencies. You have placed hundreds of thousands of people on the public payrolls. You have augmented our expenses by millions of dollars a year by the payment of salaries to political henchmen of yours."

"You promised in 1932 that you would maintain a sound currency. You have reduced the value of the dollar, dabbled in silver and created a situation wherein neither you nor your aides really know what is going on or what the result may be."

"You attacked 'master minds in government,' saying in 1930: 'the doctrine of legislation by master minds in whose judgment all will of the people may gladly and quietly acquiesce, has been glaringly apparent in Washington during these last ten years.' During the last two and a half years you have placed over us appointees who have assumed infallibility and insisted that their will was law."

Charges Oath Violated

More important than all these, Col. Roosevelt said, the President swore on a Bible before the Supreme court and congress at the time he took office to "preserve, protect and defend the constitution of the United States."

"But you have been faithless," the speaker said. "You have usurped the functions of congress, hampered the freedom of the press, removed men from quasi-judicial bodies for political purposes and striven to concentrate in your hands dictatorial powers."

"You have urged congress to pass laws which you know were unconstitutional. You said in advocating one of your measures: 'I hope your committee will not permit doubts as to constitutionality, however reasonable, to block the suggested legislation.'"

"You seem to have forgotten that there was such a thing as a Democratic platform on which you ran and to which you pledged yourself, and your cabinet officers have patterned themselves after you. But we, the people, have not forgotten. You will hear from us in 1936."

BEGIN HERE TODAY

RUTH WOODSON, a pretty, high-spirited girl of 19, traveling in the mid-west in search of work, is put off a bus in the little town of Worthington, when she runs out of money. A storm is breaking and she seeks refuge in an old stone mansion with a blue door. Pleading from hunger, Ruth is carried upstairs by the queer old housekeeper, BERTHA GIBBS, also known as "PENNY," and by JOHN McNEILL, from next door.

Penny believes Ruth to be ELAINE CHALMERS, whose grandfather built the house. Elaine, meanwhile, at Graystone College, vows in a secret meeting to win the love of John McNeill, her first sweetheart. She plans to go to Worthington.

Ruth, in love with John, resolves to stay on a while at the old home, pretending to be Elaine. A man, known as JOHN SMITH, escapes from an institution for the criminally insane, but is used-car and starts for Worthington where, he assures himself, "he will be working with it. But McNeill, returning from a business trip, offers to help. "With a smile," he says, "I have seen the wonder where they have been the other before. John, driving home, thinks of the secret he calls 'Elaine' and realizes that he loves her."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XV

SOON after Penny's return from town the groceries arrived. Ruth helped her put them away on the pantry shelves. Studying the ample outlay, Ruth suggested: "Suppose I make you a cake, Penny? A day-late birthday cake!"

"My!" exclaimed Penny in surprise. "That would be grand. I can't recall when I had a cake—but can you cook, Miss Elaine?"

"I can cook better than I can play golf," replied Ruth impressively and with secret humor. "I learned it at school."

Penny ventured timidly, "Could you somehow make the loing pink, Miss Elaine? I always thought it would be elegant to have a cake with pink icing."

"Why, yes," Ruth answered, after thinking over the pathetic request. "I can color it with a little of the water you're cooking the beets in. At least I'll do my best."

In an hour the cake was cooling and waiting for its decoration. Ruth contrived to color the icing by boiling the sugar in beet water. The result was such a delicate pink froth as to gladden Penny's heart. Tears of pride came to the old woman's eyes as she surveyed the beautiful, three-story structure which had been made for her with such infinite pains. "I never thought to have the like!" she exclaimed.

"We'll cut it tonight after supper," Ruth said. "While it's still soft and fresh."

Later, after Penny had served Ruth and had cleared the supper table of the simple one-course meal, the cake was brought on. Since it was Penny's cake, Ruth felt it was ridiculous that it should be served by Penny rather than shared with Penny. She thought, "I know Elaine would never do it. But I'm going to ask her to sit down at the table with me, so we can eat it together."

She did. The old woman, after a bit of demurring, drew up a chair to the big walnut table and eagerly held out her plate for one of the soft, thick slices.

congregation that assembled, many from our nearby churches.

BRETHREN CHURCH

The blessings of the Lord was keenly felt in both the morning and evening services at the Brethren church yesterday. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and the display of vegetables, fruits and grains gave evidence of God's goodness. Rev. A. D. Cashman gave a splendid sermon which was much appreciated.

Dr. C. D. Bonasack thrilled his large audience last night as he told of his trip around the world when he visited the Brethren mission points in Africa, India and China.

Tonight there will be a business meeting when an election of officers will be held for the Sunday school year beginning Oct. 1.

Baptismal services will be conducted Wednesday night at 7:30 in connection with a consecration service. All are invited.

The Ladies Aid will meet at the church Thursday afternoon and they desire to elect officers at this time, and a good attendance is desired.

Dr. J. E. Miller of Elgin will be with us next Sunday morning and conduct a consecration service with the church and pastor in this beginning of the fourth year of pastoral work with the present pastor. All members of the church should plan to attend this service.

SHE had just begun to eat, wearing a blissfully happy expression on her face, when there came echoing through the house the sound of a knocker striking a door. Her jaws stopped in mid-air, as it were, while she hunched forward to listen. The knocking came again. Old Bertha laid down her cake and got up. "I'll go see who 'tis," she said. "It's likely a peddler. You wait here—"

Ruth tasted the cake critically. It was light and the textured and utterly delicious. She ate a second slice, glowing with innocent pride in her culinary accomplishments. She thought, "I wonder if John McNeill likes cake?"

When she realized that she was day dreaming in this sentimental fashion she blushed furiously and jumped to her feet. "I won't!" she told herself sharply. "I'll like him and enjoy him while I'm here, but I won't fall so hard I'll have a broken heart to carry away with me!"

She began to collect the dishes and to take them to the kitchen. She forced herself to stop thinking of John. Instead, she disciplined her mind by recalling

TRI-CORNERED PENNANT RACE GROWS FIERCE

Cubs Snatch Lead By Two Games As the Cards Lose

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer)

The celebrated hop from the frying pan into the fire couldn't be much worse than the one the Giants have to take from St. Louis to Chicago.

Triumphing in a great struggle which began with St. Louis in the lead and New York 3½ games behind, the New Yorkers now face exactly the same sort of series against the Cubs. While the Giants were routing the Cards on their own field for the third time in a row, Chicago continued its brilliant winning streak to 12 straight victories by sweeping a four-game series with Brooklyn and now heads the parade by two games over St. Louis and 3½ games over New York.

Bill Terry's wrecking crew apparently proved that its pennant aspirations still were sound after losing the first game to the Cards and Dizzy Dean, they came back to win three in a row, including two extra inning encounters.

Routed Dizzy Dean

They showed their strength again yesterday when, after two extra inning victories, they routed Dizzy Dean, who won the first game easily, and hammered out a 7 to 3 triumph with a 1-hit attack that rocked three pitchers. Carl Hubbell pitched two-hit ball up to the sixth, when Joe Medwick hit for the circuit, then eased up and gave two runs in the eighth after New York had scored its last two.

The Cards had scant consolation in the fact that the attendance of 41,284 set a St. Louis record for a single regular-season game.

Four Brooklyn errors, plus Bill Lee's six-hit flinging made it easy for the Cubs to increase their lead with a 6 to 3 victory over the Dodgers.

Gus Suhr, Pittsburgh first baseman, equalled the National League endurance record of 618 games, established by Eddie Brown of Boston, when he played one inning in a 5 to 3 victory over the Phillies. He still trailed the American League "iron man" Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, who took part in game 1,640, of his continuous stretch and helped beat the league-leading Tigers 8 to 7.

Triumph Meant Little

The Yankees triumph only served to reduce Detroit's lead to 8½ games two weeks before the close of the season.

Cleveland broke its third-place deadlock with the Red Sox by pounding out two victories over Washington with a total of 35 hits. The scores were 16 to 4 and 6 to 3. Boston won only one game, trimming the Browns 9 to 5 with a six-run sixth inning rally after St. Louis had nicked Lefty Grove for five tallies in the first.

The White Sox and Athletics split a bargain bill, Chicago winning the opener 8 to 2 and Philadelphia the ten-inning afterpiece 7 to 5 on Pinky Higgins' home run. Cincinnati turned back the Braves twice, 1 to 0 in the opening pitching duel in which Paul Derringer and Ben Cantwell gave four hits each, and 7 to 6 on a ninth-inning run in the second clash.

Yesterday's Stars

By the Associated Press.

Hank Leiber, Giants—Batted in three runs and scored three in victory over Cardinals, hitting homer and single.

Paul Derringer and Jim Bottomley, Reds—Derringer blanked Boston with four hits in first game; Bottomley's pinch hit in ninth inning won second.

Johnny Murphy, Yankees—Checked Tigers as relief pitcher, drove in tying run with double and scored winning tally.

Bill Lee, Cubs—Limited Dodgers to six hits and fanned six.

Ed Phillips, Indians—Knocked in six runs with three doubles and single in first victory over Senators.

Marty Hopkins, White Sox and Pinky Higgins, Athletics—Hopkins batted in four runs in first game; Higgins made four hits in second and won it with tenth-inning homer.

Hitchcock Adds To Polo Glory As He Wins Contests

New York, Sept. 16 — (AP) — Tommy Hitchcock is riding high, wide and handsome again and his Greentree mallet is knocking on the door of the national open polo throne room.

Playing with all the dash and reckless abandon that featured his play when he was handicapped at ten goals, Hitchcock has led the Greentree riders to victories over Long Island and Templeton into the final bracket where they will meet Aurora Wednesday.

Yesterday Greentree shaded the favored champions, Templeton, 10-9 as Hitchcock thrilled 20,000 persons on International field with his exhibition of horsemanship, tactics and mallet wielding. He figured in practically every scoring play and tallied three times himself. Riding with him were George H. (Pete) Bostwick, Gerald Balding and John Hay (Jack) Whitney.

Tilden Becomes National Court Singles Champ

New York, Sept. 16—(AP)—Bill Tilden, veteran tennis campaigner, today had supplanted the Czech, Karel Kozeluh, as national professional singles champion.

Playing on the courts of the Terrace club in Brooklyn yesterday, Tilden downed his old rival in a five set struggle, 6-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-6, 6-4.

In the doubles finals, the defenders, George Lott and Lester Stofen, defeated Alfred H. Chapin and Morten Bernstein in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

TULANE WILL BE POWERFUL CLAIMS COACH

Will Menace Even the Gopher Eleven on Schedule

(This is another of a series of prospects of major football teams.)

New Orleans, Sept. 16—(AP)—Big men usually are silent men. Big Ted Cox, Tulane's head coach, standing six feet four and weighing 250 pounds, is one of them and sports writers generally have to be content with a few grunts when it comes to discussing his team. But this year he gave voice:

"The old saying among coaches that the flowers that bloom in the spring wilt in the fall does not apply to this squad. So far the cream of the crop of the spring is looking better this fall than they did last spring. I am well pleased with the outlook."

For Cox this is fluent speech. If he says that much he must be bubbling over with enthusiasm for the 1935 Green Wave. And he has basis for optimism. If his sophomores settle down to a steady pace early in the season there is no reason why he should not stretch a bright light across the football sky.

Passes Offense Transpiring

The pass, both forward and lateral, will be the main spring of the offense. The backfield holds three halfbacks who have mastered the technique. Barney Mintz, captain and last year's star, Dick Watson and Troy Odum, the last two sophomores, can throw a football like a baseball, run like a deer, kick like a mule and block like a wall. They weigh 180, 200 and 185 respectively and they have brains to go with the brawn.

The quarterback position may be termed a weakness if there is one. Dick Page is the only experienced quarter but Wiltz Ott is developing. All in all, it will be a fast, brainy, powerful team capable of threatening any eleven even Minnesota.

The schedule:

Sept. 28, V. M. I., Oct. 5, Auburn; Oct. 12, Florida, Oct. 19, Minnesota; Oct. 26, Sewanee; Nov. 2, Colgate; Nov. 9, Georgia; Nov. 16, Kentucky; Nov. 23, Louisiana Normal; Nov. 30, Louisiana State University.

Speculator, N. Y., Sept. 16—(AP)—Fifteen persons nursed cuts and bruises today as an aftermath of the collapse of the ragside bleachers at Max Baer's training camp.

The bleachers gave way yesterday as the former heavyweight champion started an afternoon workout in preparation for his fight with Joe Louis of Detroit Sept. 24.

Approximately 400 fight fans were in the stands at the time and they were dumped 15 feet in the tangle of smashed boards.

CARDS OPENED PRO FOOTBALL YEAR SUNDAY

Defeated Green Bay 7-6; Kick By Pardonner

Chicago, Sept. 16—(AP)—Started off by two games which produced victories for Pittsburgh and the Chicago Cardinals, the National Professional football league gains a little momentum during the next seven days with three battles.

The Philadelphia Eagles who participated in the league's opener Friday night by losing a 17 to 7 decision to Pittsburgh, will tackle the powerful Detroit Lions in another night affair at Detroit next Friday.

On Sunday the 1934 champions, the New York Giants, will shove off against the Pirates at Pittsburgh, and the Chicago Bears will open against the Green Bay Packers at Green Bay.

The Cardinals, who have a notion that they will be among the leaders all season, made a start toward proving it yesterday by outpointing the Packers, 7 to 6, at Green Bay. The margin of victory was a point after touchdown via place kick by Paul Pardonner who learned the art at Purdue.

European Prisons Found Not Crowded

Washington, Sept. 14—(AP)—Officials scanning latest reports on the prison population of the nation, predicted that convicts in Federal penitentiaries would reach another new high this fall.

Sanford Bates, director of Federal prisons, back from a visit to European prisons, expressed concern as he noted the figures which showed that an all-time peak was reached July 19 when 16,612 convicts were held in Federal prisons, jails and work camps. This was expected to mount to a new high when Federal courts take up their work in the fall.

Comparing conditions here and abroad, Bates said:

"One thing, they spend money for prisons over there. No place in Europe are two or three or five prisoners forced into a single cell, as we have to do. None of the prisons is crowded with 2,000 or 3,000 prisoners."

LITTLE PROVES CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF CALIBRE

Has Long Way To Go To Reach Jones Mark

New York, N. Y., Sept. 16—(AP)—There's no longer any question of Lawson Little's place in the golfing sun. The California cannonader has taken over the throne of amateur supremacy, abdicated by Bob Jones five years ago, and demonstrated convincingly over a two-year winning streak that he ranks with the great Georgian as a shot maker.

It is doubtful if Little ever will equal the supreme feat Jones achieved in 1930—the grand slam of four major championships in Britain and America. The Californian has a long way to go before he comes even close to rivaling the eight-year record of 13 national titles collected by the Georgian. Yet his development has been so rapid and sensational within two years and his domination of the amateur field is so complete today that it is no longer safe to suggest where Little is going to stop or be stopped.

Pros Admire Champ

The professionals already are regarding the amateur king with considerable admiration as well as apprehension. They have had the open championship to themselves, at home and abroad, since 1930 with the exception of Johnny Goodman's triumph in 1933. It appeared Goodman was the simon-pure player most likely to attempt filling the big pair of shoes left by Jones. Johnny's still a fine shotmaker and a first class competitor but Little has jumped several notches ahead of him and the gap is widening.

The Californian was low amateur in the American open last year. He was low amateur at Augusta this spring with 288, nine strokes in front of Jones. He finished fourth, with 289, in this year's British open. He has given an amazing exhibition of par-cracking in scoring two successive "double slams" in amateur competition to prove he can stagger old man par as well as his opponents.

At Cleveland Little was exactly 19 strokes under par for 156 holes. This is unquestionably an all-time record in 39 years of American amateur championship play. The best mark Jones compiled was at Minikahda, in 1927, when he finished ten under par for 152 holes.

At Peak in Final

Like a true champion, Little was at his peak in the final match to repulse the scrappy challenge of Oklahoma's Walter Emery, 4 and 2. The Californians finished with an eagle—his second on the same hole in as many days—to end Emery's last hopes in one of the most exciting championship matches since George Von Elm beat Bob Jones in 1926 at Baltusrol. Emery was only one over par for 34 holes but his most persistent and courageous efforts were insufficient to crack the champion's fighting armor. It was the Oklahoma's first bid for the title and stamped him as a rival for Little to reckon with over the next few years.

By capturing the British and American amateur titles for two straight years Little has pulled a

More Hard Luck

Ailing most of the season, Frankie Pytlak, above, smallest catcher in the major leagues, requested that he be placed on the voluntary retired list until he can recuperate from nervousness and ailing eyes. Pytlak was forced from the Cleveland lineup by stomach ulcers last year, and took a 10-day vacation for the same reason this season. The loss of Pytlak is but a continuation of the rough luck that has trailed the Indians since spring training.

Hoffman, Witzleb Tied; Bee Stings Former; He Loses

Because he was stung on the nose by a bumble bee as he was about to make a shot that would have tied the score, John Hoffman was defeated in one of those hectic foursome matches that are played every Sunday at Plum Hollow.

John was playing with some of his old arch-rivals including Jud Devaney and Oscar Witzleb. The incident occurred at hole number nine when Witzleb called on his aerial forces armed with lances to attack John's proboscis. With a ripping Swiss oath John's accuracy was suddenly reduced to nil and the ball circled around the cup as he clutched the offending appendage. He protested the decision with all the eloquence his Swiss vocabulary could muster. To no avail! Witzleb and his companion were obdurate. John must accept the defeat. He promised revenge in the future, however, and before the snow flies, too.

Large crowds of golfers took advantage of the return of summer, Sunday, by trooping around the Plum Hollow links. The fairways and greens were in good condition and fast.

stunt that only two players before were able to do even once. Harold Hilton, the Englishman, won both championships in 1911. Bob Jones included them in his 1930 sweep. The Californian has run his world record winning streak to 31 consecutive matches. He's only 25 years old now and there's no telling when and where he is going to stop.

STATE COLLEGE GRID ELEVENS BEGIN EARLY

Carthage to Play Wednesday Night at Burlington

Chicago, Sept. 16—(AP)—Stepping into intercollegiate competition after less than two weeks of practice, three members of Illinois Little 19 loop will open their 1935 football schedules this week, against non-conference foes.

Carthage College, one of the first to begin drills, will lead the rest of the field into action with a Wednesday night game on the Burlington (Ia.) Junior College gridiron. Illinois Wesleyan will swing into its schedule Friday night at Forbes field, Pittsburgh, against Christy Flanagan's Duquesne eleven. McKendree will meet the Scott Field fliers at Lebanon Saturday.

Five new coaches will make their debuts in the conference this season. The center of attraction among the new tutors will be Pete Reynolds, who has been optimistic enough to predict that the Knox losing streak—now standing at a world record—tying total of 27—will be snapped before the end of the season.

To Get First Look

Reynolds was to get his first look at his assembled group of Old Siwash huskies today, at the first practice of the season.

Harry Bell, formerly a member of the coaching staffs at Lombard and Butler, will direct the grid destinies of Illinois Wesleyan. Bell also has assumed the duties of athletic director.

Wendell Smith, former end on the Occidental (Calif.) College eleven, met a group of 75 candidates last week as he took up the position as coach at Wheaton College. John MacNamara, basketball coach at St. Viator last year, will handle the football team this season, succeeding Ray Murphy.

At Charleston Teachers' college, Winfield Angus succeeds Charles P. Lantz who gave up his coaching duties after 24 years of service. Lantz's resignation left William McAndrew, of Carbondale Teachers' dean of the Little 19 mentors with more than 20 years to his credit.

Along with Knox, Bradley, Illinois College, Monmouth, Millikin, and North Central were to stage their first practices today.

BIG TEN TEAMS OPEN UP HEAVY GRID PRACTICE

Minnesota, Illini And Ohio State Are In Shape

Chicago, Sept. 16—(AP)—Fortified by five extra days of practice, Big Ten football squads settled down to heavy duty drills today.

In previous years, today would have been the first day of practice. But with the added five days, made possible when the conference faculty committee on athletics moved the opening day up to Sept. 10, coaches were ready to start making definite assignments.

Minnesota, Ohio State and Illinois, the preseason favorites, and Michigan, apparently were ahead of the other squads in training. All had been through at least one regulation scrimmage. Coaches at the other institutions, however, had used the added days almost entirely for conditioning.

There were no serious injuries reported during the week, but a couple of minor ones upset Clark Shaughnessy's plans at Chicago. Ned Bartlett, who is expected to team with Jay Berwanger at half-back, was out of action with blistered feet for three days. Shaughnessy had no substitute fast enough to fit in the first string backfield and had to shift from drills on running plays to dummy forward pass work.

"LITTLE WORLD" SERIES IS OFF

Chicago, Sept. 16—(AP)—The 34th championship season of the American Association was history today, and for the first time since 1919, nothing in the way of a play-off or "little world series"—or both—faced the winner.

The title, clinched several days ago, went to the Minneapolis Millers for the sixth time since the league was organized in 1902. The Indianapolis Indians finished second, five games back of the Millers, with Columbus, the 1934 champion, and Kansas City, tied for third place. St. Paul was fifth, with Milwaukee, Toledo and Louisville following in that order.

While the playoff system, used for the past two seasons, and the "little world series" with the International league winner, had been dropped, members of the first four teams picked up extra money through a $20,000 bonus plan. Minneapolis gets $8,000, Indianapolis, $2,000 for third and fourth places will be split—$3,000 each to Columbus and Kansas City.

The Association refused to meet the International league winner in the "little world series" when the latter organization declined to drop its playoff.
